

YEARBOOK TO BE A SENIOR PROJECT; FIRST SINCE 1930

Staff Has Begun Work on School Annual; Asks For Snapshots And Suggestions for Name.

A yearbook, to be published by the senior and journalism classes, is in the first stages of planning. Editors-in-chief to supervise the work will include Prin. Earl Boggs, Lestelle L. Murphy, senior sponsor, and Pearl Pickens, journalism teacher.

The editorial staff, as elected by the journalism class, has as editor, Miriam McQuain; literary editor, Anne Withers; art editor, Betty Gainer; and photography editor, Karl West. In charge of the finances will be the business manager, Johnny Wagner, selected by the senior class. Advertising manager will be Nell Reed and in charge of subscriptions, Margy Jack. Staffs to help these will be selected soon.

This will be the second yearbook ever printed in Glenville High School. The first was printed in 1930 by the first graduating class of the High School and was known as the Gilmerite.

As yet a name has not been selected. Suggestions for a name will be appreciated. Good snapshots are also wanted now for the yearbook. They should be handed to Karl West as soon as possible.

100 SCOUTS BY END OF '43 IS NEW GOAL

An effort to extend the Boy Scout program in 1943 is being made by Gilmer County leaders so as to train young boys for new responsibilities.

Scout troops in the county have tripled since December, 1941, yet four additional troops are planned for this coming year to make a total of 10 troops if reached. Scouts numbered 17 last year, while now there are 59, with 100 scouts the objective for December 31, 1943. Although the Cub organization is incomplete, two packs with 30 cubs are set as the goal by the end of 1943.

The Scouts have been active in most of the war efforts, including scrap drives, civilian defense, and distribution of circulars.

H. S. BOYS ENTERING ARMED FORCES MAY RECEIVE CREDITS

A question has been raised often concerning the granting of school credit to high school boys who are entering the armed services.

The State Department of Education has announced that high school boys going into the armed services who have completed at least one-half of a semester's work and were at the time of entering service, passing their work satisfactorily will be given credit for the work of the whole semester. If that semester completed the number of credits required for graduation they may be granted their diploma absentia.

If any boy has reached the age of 18, but not 20, and is in his last half of the school year, he may, upon written request, be deferred until the end of that school year.

CHORAL GROUP TO HAVE SPAGHETTI SUPPER JAN. 19

The Choral Club is sponsoring a spaghetti supper at the Trinity Methodist Church January 19, in order to raise money to complete payment on the choral robes.

Miriam McQuain, president, has announced the following committees: Publicity — Mary Lila Luzader, Anne Withers and Eula Marie Beall; food—Nell Reed, Ted Fultineer, Margy Jack, Jessabel McQuain and Peggy June Adams; arrangements — John Wagner, Karl West, Carolyn Hull, Verna Dean Ellis, and Jimmy Reed.

SATELLITE GOES FROM POST TO POST BUT IT REACHES — A SOLDIER

The Satellite does get around, it seems.

Recently a message was received from Lt. Donald Young saying that he had received the December 7 issue of the paper but that his address on the paper was wrong. It had been sent to Fort Leonard Wood, Mo., from there to Fort Belvoir, Va., and then to Camp Campbell, Ky., where he is now stationed.

Incidentally, Donald said that he enjoyed the paper. He is a brother of Miss Mary Young, fifth grade teacher.

"HUCKLEBERRY FINN" WELL RECEIVED WHEN PRESENTED BY JUNIORS DECEMBER 17

"Huckleberry Finn," the three-act play presented by the junior class Dec. 17 was well received by a large audience.

Billy Luzader as Huck, and Jack Hardman as Tom Sawyer, gave excellent performances and kept the action moving along swiftly. Betty Fisher realistically portrayed the part of the so-o-o nervous Aunt Polly and Marjory Wiant as the colored maid portrayed her part well.

The deaconess of a small town church was interpreted by Jean Nottingham whose irresponsible sister, Pauline Wilson, got her share of laughs. Juanita Griffith, as Aunt Polly's niece, knew all the neighborhood news—and kept it in circulation.

Eula Marie Beall, as Ruth Watson, had much poise and charm even when her handsome lover, Bob Bennett, by mistake asked her to "be My Hungarian Goulash." Donald Barker did good acting both as Huck's "tough" father and later of his reformed father.

The play was well staged and reflects much credit on the cast and the director, Miss Helen McGee.

DRAMATIC CLUB TO PRESENT PLAYS

The Dramatic Club under the direction of Mrs. Davies is working on three one-act plays to be presented soon.

These plays are "Orville's Big Date," "The Little Patriot," a patriotic play, and "Three to Get Ready," a play with an all-girl cast.

Major Easley to Present Awards To More Than 200 County People Who Will Graduate Tonight.

About two hundred Gilmer County persons will receive Civilian Defense certificates at graduation exercises to be held at the Court House tonight, beginning at 7:30. The certificates will be awarded by Major James P. Easley, A. G. D.—U. S. A., assisted by District Supervisor John F. Flynn.

The program as announced by H. Y. Clak, Supervisor of Training, is as follows:

Band concert directed by Mrs. Phyllis Rohrbough.

Advance of Colors—American Legion.

Pledge to flag—Ted Fultineer. Invocation—Rev. C. L. Arehart.

Introduction of guests—Supervisor of Training, H. Y. Clark.

Music—College trio. "Gilmer County Organization"—Earl Boggs.

Presentation of Class—H. Y. Clark.

Presentation of diplomas—Major James P. Easley.

Retirement of Colors—American Legion.

Benediction.

Film—"The Home Front."

Over 25% of those to graduate are high school students or teachers. The 42 students and 11 teachers who, according to the records, have completed courses and are eligible to graduate, arranged by sections, are: Medical Auxiliary—Lucy Wolfe; Decontamination Squad — Billy Luzader; Telephone Operators —Marjorie Davies, chairman, Isabel Coffman, Margy Jack, Nell Reed, Anne Withers; Command Section—Earl Boggs, chairman, Karl West, Ted Fultineer.

BE THE FAN-BEHIND-THE-MAN

"All for one and one for all!" So it is and so it should be since our basketball season has started. The boys playing want to win as much as we spectators want them to win.

If a bad play is made, don't blame the player too much or if the referee doesn't see quite as you do, don't boo him. They're all doing their best and that's the most we can expect.

The Red Terrors will be out to win by clean, hard fighting. Let us as students do our part by clean wholesome backing. So be the fan behind the man who plays the game. If we can do this the Red Terrors will show their appreciation by winning their share of the games.

—Margy Jack.

WE MUST DO STILL MORE

Captain Eddie Rickenbacker's speech recently brought home to Americans a comparison of the lives that the civilians in America are living with the conditions under which our soldiers are living. We grumble because we do not get enough gas for pleasure driving, yet Rickenbacker, just returned from the fighting fronts of New Guinea and Guadalcanal, reports that our boys are living in a "hell-hole," as he put it. They have no time for pleasure, yet certain of us put our own selfish pleasures before the winning of the war. You will probably remember also how U. S. soldiers lived in fox holes on Bataan Peninsula.

We have done much towards helping the war effort, but not enough. We all hope and pray that the war ends next year but if it does it will mean that a gigantic effort on the part of all Americans will be necessary to support the ones who must do the job—the boys at the front.

—Jack Rader.

THE WEATHER CHANGETH FROM DAY TO DAY

Rain! Snow! Sunshine! Wind! Pray tell me what is coming next! First it starts raining. That turns into snow, then the sun shines and melts the snow and the wind starts blowing, dries the road a little bit and then it starts all over again.

That is the way the weather acted during the holidays. It rained so hard we thought we would have a flood but thanks to the change to snow we didn't. Every one had moved his "stuff" out of the cellar and was expecting the worst.

Then last Sunday was just like a beautiful spring day, but Old Man Winter came along and brought snow and cold wind with him.

Pray tell me what is coming next. I don't know, you don't know. Let's ask Mr. Hall.

—Mary Lila Luzader.

STUDENTS BUSY THIS WEEK

Students begin to groan as they look forward to the arrival of first semester tests this week. They begin to say, "What is going to be on the test?" or "Don't make the test too hard." Students usually running around in the halls, will be found with their noses in a book and the first noise that anyone makes they rise with the familiar "sh-h-h!"

All in all, the tests are not so hard if you'll take the advice of a student and study for them.

—Jack Porter.

Thrice Made Resolutions

New Year's Resolutions when they are spoken, Everyone knows will soon be broken!

Every year this is the same thing, but every year at this time, the students and teachers of Glenville High School resolve they will do this and that. So—

Miss McGee resolves not to be so hard on her library students . . . Blondena declares she will have nothing to do with the opposite sex in '43 . . . Peggy June promises to do two things: help keep "Morale of Defense Workers" high and not to forget Bob W. . . Betty Fisher says she won't keep Tony out so late . . . Mr. Boggs makes so many resolutions about school he forgets them all . . .

John Adams decides he will only go to see Marianne R. five nights out of seven . . . Jack Hardman is going to be a good boy and mind the teachers . . . Odis Dobbins' only resolution is to see more of Mary Ann E. . . Billy Greenleaf and Betty Rose Moss resolve to come to school more regularly . . . Clyde Bush decides to settle down to one girl . . . Miss Pickens says everyone must have his work in on time (same old thing) . . . Mary Sue S. resolves to turn all her charms on Jack Porter so she'll have someone to walk to Northview with . . . Isabelle says she'll take brother Don . . . Betty Gainer resolves to forget Joe, at least for a while.

Personals

Miriam and Jessabel McQuain attended the funeral of their uncle, Hayward Morrison of Bridgeport, December 24. Burial services were held at the Horn Creek Baptist Church. He was a brother of Mrs. Opal McQuain, vice president of the Parent-Teachers Association.

Betty Gainer, senior, who underwent an operation for appendicitis early in December, returned to school Jan. 4.

Sgt. and Mrs. Averill Boggs were visiting relatives and friends in Glenville during the holidays. Mrs. Boggs, formerly Wanda Greenleaf, was a junior in high school the past year. Mr. Boggs is stationed at Edinburgh, Ind.

The first student basketball ticket at the first game of this season was bought by Juanita Griffith, a junior.

3. Most of the seniors will receive diplomas in May; some will try again in 1944.

4. Margy and Mary Lila will win acclaim for their verses printed in the Satellite as well as for a longer poem published late in the summer.

5. John Wagner, senior president, will prepare to teach chemistry.

6. The Yearbook to be published by the senior class will prove to be a great favorite.

MUSICAL NOTES

Kay Kyser admits he has no musical ability, claims he just knows how to sell gags. To prove it, he pays income tax on a million dollars a year.

Kay was born on June 18, 1906. Place was Rocky Mount, North Carolina. Birth record gives his name as James Kern Kyser. He loves swimming and horse-back riding; will pass up both for a double-feature. But movies play second fiddle to roller coasters. He has an aversion to moustaches. Only rule for his men is that they don't wear them. New talent for the Kyser organization need not even be musical, according to rumor.

Kyser talents were first exercised at University of North

GLENVILLE RED TERRORS DEFEAT WESTON MINUTEMEN AT WESTON TUESDAY, 47-40

For First Time In History G. H. S. Downs Ancient Rival on Her Own Home Floor.

The Glenville Red Terrors defeated the Weston Minutemen the past Tuesday to the tune of a 47-40 score. This was the Terrors' second game and first win after being defeated by the Alumni 40-34 on Dec. 31. The Terrors, for the second consecutive time, were paced by "Ted" Fultineer with 15 points. Rondall Gainer got his eye on the basket for 12 more and Bob Whiting was next with 10. Yeager got 6 and Wolfe 4.

The Terrors proved to their new coach, "Joe" Hall that they could play ball. They had the big quarter after the half when they came through with 18 points to their opponents' 5 to bring the score to a 43-28 halt. Things began to happen after Coach Hall relieved the first team, when they had a 47-28 lead. The second team failed to score while the Minutemen began hitting the basket from everywhere and came up to within seven points when the final whistle blew.

This is the first time in the history of the two schools that Glenville has won a basketball game from the Minutemen on Weston's home floor.

THERMOMETER "HITS" NEW LOW FOR DECEMBER

An all-time record was set the past month when the thermometer dropped to 13 degrees below zero December 20. This is the lowest it has ever been in December, in West Virginia, according to the Clarksburg Exponent.

There has been an unusual amount of snow this month.

JUNIOR HIGH HAS FIVE LETTERMEN FROM LAST YEAR, AND A NEW COACH

The Junior High basketball squad has been practising, for more than two weeks, with fourteen players out.

There are five lettermen on the squad left from last year. There are four other boys who were on the squad last year but failed to earn letters. The lettermen are as follows: Shreve, Dobbins, Arnold, Hardman, and Fultineer. Other boys out include: Hupp, Schimmel, Withers, Bess, Adams, Rymer, King, Gainer, Stewart, Satterfield, and F. Fultineer.

Last year's team won five and lost eight in regular season games. In the tournament, held at Troy, they beat Spencer and lost to Tanner in the semi-finals. Gone from that team are Brown, Porter, Dobbins and Williams.

This year's team promises to have a successful season. The team will be handicapped by a lack of substitutes on games away from home, due to the gasoline shortage.

The team is coached this year by Stanley Hall, who is also coach of the High School team. In both instances he succeeds C. D. Wilfong.

FOURTH GRADE WINS BANNER

The attendance banner for the fourth month went to the fourth grade with a high percentage of 98.95%.

The third, sixth, and second grades placed second, third, and fourth respectively.

REPORTERS HEAR THEIR OWN "DOPE" BROADCAST FROM WMMN TUESDAY

The past Tuesday evening Satellite sports writers Jack Rader and Jack Porter received a great thrill when they heard Bill Babcock, sports announcer for station WMMN, Fairmont, read on his daily "Sports Roundup" at 6:15, the letter which the two boys sent to him concerning his request over the air that high school teams furnish him with information about their basketball prospects and also send him the results of the games they play each week.

The letter which the boys wrote and Mr. Babcock read reported that the Glenville Red Terrors had two regulars back, Fultineer and Wolfe, and three other lettermen, Yeager, Whiting, and George, and also a newcomer, Ronnie Gainer, who played at Tanner last year. Also mentioned was the fact that the Red Terrors won the state "B" championship in 1941 and were runners-up last year in the regional tournament.

Mr. Babcock said that he would be glad to receive information all the time concerning high school basketball teams, which he will announce each Tuesday evening. Jack and Jack plan to furnish information about the Red Terrors each week.

COLLEGE GYM GETS A COAT OF FRESH PAINT FOR THE NEW YEAR

The college gymnasium, where both the Glenville Pioneers and Glenville Red Terrors play their home basketball games, is looking very nice after having had its floor revarnished and the various lines such as the foul circles, side-lines, and middle lines repainted the past week. The work was done by David Fitzpatrick, '41, and Jack Luzader, '41, former Glenville High students now enrolled at G. S. T. C.; Harry Pritt, '41, who until recently had been working in Charleston; and five high school boys, Ted Fultineer, Bob Whiting, Rondall Gainer, and Karl West, all seniors, and Billy Luzader, a junior.

TERRORS WILL PLAY TANNER AND SUTTON

G. H. S. to Play Tanner There Tuesday; Will Meet Sutton On Home Floor Friday.

The Glenville Red Terrors will play two games this week, meeting the Tanner Bulldogs at Tanner tomorrow and the Sutton Bluedevils at home on Friday. The Tanner team, although not always a leading team in the conference, is nevertheless a worthy opponent for the Terrors. As for the Glenville-Sutton games, they are always hard-fought contests.

Tanner is coached this year by Charles "Boone" Maxwell. Not much is known of their strength but they are said to have several good boys, such as Engle, B. Westfall, and C. Westfall, and are certain to be tough.

Sutton High, coached this year by Carl Brosius, nearly always has a good team on the hardwoods. Chipps, Fleming, and Six are three of their outstanding players. It will be the first time Glenville and Sutton have met in basketball for two years.

CHORAL CLUB SINGS FOR SANTA AND YOUNGSTERS

The Community Christmas Tree, sponsored by local organizations, stood on its accustomed corner of Main and Colledge the past week, without the customary lights. Despite this fact, it served as a shelter for Old Santa and his wife when they gave out Christmas candy to all grade children on Christmas Eve.

The Rev. G. J. Johnson acted as master of ceremonies. The High School Choral Club, wearing robes and carrying candles, sang Christmas carols.

1942 WAS NOT VERY EVENTFUL YEAR IN G. H. S.

Nineteen hundred forty two was an eventful year in the history of Glenville High School. Probably the leading and most important occurrences are these:

Teachers and students helped with sugar and gasoline rationing.

Basketball team won conference, beat Sand Fork in sectional finals, but lost to Barrackville in regional finals at Clarksburg.

Quill and Scroll organized. Party replaced Junior-Senior Banquet.

Ernest Lee Arbuckle was valedictorian, Mary K. Smith, salutatorian, at commencement exercises.

Miss Craddock was married on October 24.

Two blackouts held on October 14, November 10.

First Choral Group to go to S. E. A. went to Huntington on Nov. 9.

Football team won conference.

Scrap metal and silk drives held.

Victory Corps organized. Mr. Hall replaces "Red" Wilfong as coach.

School gets regular band instructor this year.

STUDENTS IN MINOR AUTOMOBILE ACCIDENT

After returning from the Glenville - Weston basketball game Tuesday, Bob Bennett, junior, had a minor automobile accident. He was taking Eula Marie Beall, Marjorie Wiant, Billy Luzader, all students, and Jack Luzader, '41, to their homes. When he tried to stop the car to let Eula Marie out, his brakes failed to hold and the car went on down the hill a short distance then the front left wheel came off the car. Marjorie jumped out an received slight bruises and scratches. The others were uninjured.

ALUMNI DEFEATS G. H. S.
40-34 HERE DECEMBER 31

The Glenville Red Terror-Alumni game on Dec. 31 proved to be very exciting, especially in the final quarter when the Terrors were trying so desperately to overcome the Alumni lead. They did it, too, but at the finish were trailing by a 6-point margin, 40-34. The old grads led all the way, most of the time by about 10 points. Harry Pritt dropped in 18 points for the alumni, while Ted Fultineer led the Terror scoring with 17.

TIME MAGAZINE CHOOSES
JOSEPH STALIN AS THE MAN-OF-THE-YEAR, 1942

Time Magazine has chosen Joseph Stalin as the man-of-the-year for 1942.

Since 1928, Time has chosen the outstanding man of each year, basing its choice on: Who had the biggest rise in fame and who did most to change the news for better or for worse. Its choices have included:

- 1941—Franklin Roosevelt.
- 1940—Winston Churchill.
- 1939—Joseph Stalin.
- 1938—Adolph Hitler.
- 1937 — Generalissimo and Madam Chiang Kai-Shek.
- 1936—Wallis Warfield Simpson.
- 1935—Haile Selassie.
- 1934—Franklin Roosevelt.
- 1933—Hugh Johnson.
- 1932—Franklin Roosevelt.
- 1931—Pierre Laval.
- 1930—Mohandas Gandhi.
- 1929—Owen D. Young.
- 1928—Walter P. Chrysler.
- 1927—Charles A. Lindbergh.

PVT. AND MRS. BUTCHER HAVE DAUGHTER

Pvt. and Mrs. Roland Butcher announce the birth of a daughter, Jennie Jorene, born December 26. Pvt. Butcher, former assistant superintendent of schools, is now with the armed forces in Georgia. Mrs. Butcher, the former Miss Genevieve Manning, was employed before her marriage as commercial teacher in Sand Fork High School.

Mrs. Butcher is with her parents at Lumberport.

MAJOR EASLEY AT P. T. A.

Major Easley was principal speaker at the Parent-Teachers meeting held the past Thursday night. Mrs. Blair Gainer was program chairman.

The cheerleaders, Peggy June Adams and Betty Rose Hardman, appeared at the Weston game dressed in bright new red and white uniforms.

OCD Insignia

Starting with this issue the Satellite will publish weekly a story of each service given in Civilian Defense and its corresponding insignia.

The basic insignia shown above represents all civilian defense. Its use in any official form is confined to enrolled civilian defense workers who have successfully completed prescribed training courses. Only such qualified persons may wear it in any "official" manner.

It is for all uniform collars and cap ornaments enameled on metal or embroidered on cloth, on automobile plates, on flags and banners, and on regulation CD lapel buttons.

SEND CHRISTMAS MESSAGE

A mimeographed message of Christmas cheer was sent to the High School's former students now in the armed forces. One hundred names, including those of the Satellite, Red Terrors, and most teachers and students, were signed to the letter.
