WILLIAM HALL TO HAVE CHARGE OF SCIENCE CLASSES

Replaces Mrs. Marjorie Davies Who Resigned Because of Ill Health.

William Hall has been appointed to teach physical science here, replacing Mrs. Marjorie Davies who resigned because of ill health.

Mr. Hall, a brother of Coach Stanley "Joe" Hall, is a graduate of Glenville State Teachers College and holds a Master of Science degree from West Virginia University. He formerly taught at Tanner High School but for the past few years has been at home at Hurst, West Virginia. He will have charge of general science, chemistry and biology classes and will sponsor the seventh grade.

Mrs. Davies, who resigned two weeks ago, is confined to her home suffering from a hypertension condition caused by a chronic kidney ailment.

MUSIC STUDENTS WRITE BOND SONGS

The students in Miss Lewis's music classes are writing War Bond songs. These students are making up original words to familiar tunes. The songs will be handed to Miss Lewis, Tuesday and she will select the ones she thinks are the best and in an assembly some time later the student body will sing these and will select the one song that they consider best. The person who wrote the winning song will be given savings stamps.

Glenville Wins Third Sectional Tournament

THE WINNERS

Terrors Beat Normantown in Final Game 61-40 to Capture Fourth Straight Tourney.

The Glenville Red Terrors captured their fourth straight Sectional Tournament by trouncing their old rival, Normantown, in the finals held here on March 12 and 13, 61-40, and thus they won the right to enter the Regional Tournament at Clarksburg the next week. The Terrors' victory was a personal triumph for their coach, Stanley Hall, who guided the locals through one of the most successful seasons in their history.

The Terrors led by 30-17 at the half and continued to "pour it on" the Vikings in the rest of the game. The contest was played before one of the largest crowds ever to jam their way into the gym for the occasion, and was hard-fought. Bob Whiting dropped in 25 points for top scoring honors while his teammate, Fultineer, had 14. E. Gainer led the attack for the Vikings with 16 points and Duskey worked in the last half.

Glenville had opened the first game of the Friday night session saw Normantown's (Continued On Page Four)

PRINCIPALS SET DATES FOR COMMENCEMENTS

At a meeting of the principals of Gilmer County held at the County Superintendent's Office February 22, the following County Commencement dates were decided upon:

Glenville — Annual Sermon, May 23, 2:30 p. m.; Commencement May 24, 8:15 p. m.

Tanner — Annual Sermon, May 16, 11 a. m.; Commencement May 21, 8:15 p. m.

Troy — Annual Sermon, May 16, 11 a. m.; Commencement May 20, 8:15 p. m.

Sand Fork — Annual Sermon, May 16, 8:15 p. m.; Commencement May 21, 8:15 p. m.

Normantown — Annual Sermon, May 16, 11 a. m.; Commencement May 20, 8:15 p. m.

JOINS NAVAL AIR CORPS

Bob Whiting, senior, went to Washington the past week to take his examination for the Naval Air Corps. Bob enlisted through the V-5 plan, which provides that any high school senior 17 years of age with a C average or above may become a Naval Aviation Cadet.

Bob left Sunday for Washington and returned home Thursday.

Jack—Do you know what the War Bond said to the person who bought it?
Ray—No, what?
Jack—I'll be of interest to you.

GLENVILLE NOT TO ENTER THE DISTRICT SPEECH MEET APRIL 3

Glenville High School will not enter the District Speech meet to be held April 3 at the Glenville State Teachers College, said Miss Helen McGee, recently.

Miss Kathleen Robertson, chairman, announces that so far two schools have entered and two or three more are expected.

The counties in District VI, which meets here, include Gilmer, Calhoun, Braxton, Lewis, Roane, Wirt, and Wood.

The events in the Contest include oration, oral interpretation of poetry, debate, and extemporaneous speaking. The winners here in each event will go to Morgantown April 17 to compete with winners from the other 11 districts for four-year scholarships to West Virginia University.

Ernest Lee Arbuckle and Mary K. Smith represented Glenville in the District meet last year.

MISS SUMMERS WILL COLLECT PENNIES

Miss Susan Summers, third grade teacher, has been selected to take up the Junior Red Cross pennies which each home room is collecting every week. Miss Summers replaces Mrs. Davies, high school science teacher who resigned March 10.

STATE CHORUS STUDENTS ARE AWARDED PINS

Pins were recently sent to those students who participated in the All-State Chorus at Huntington this fall.

Those students from Glenville receiving pins were: Kenneth Fisher, Carl Young, Carolyn Hull, Peg Adams, Nell Reed, Harry Stewart, Verna Dean Ellis, Karl West, and Jack Bailey.

TO BEGIN 8:55 MONDAY

Next Monday the students and teachers of Gilmer County will start back on the old school time. School will begin at 8:55 and be dismissed at 3:45.

Mrs. Robert Crawford taught Mrs. Davies' classes March 11-12.

THE SATELLITE

The Satellite is published by the Journalism Class of Glenville High School.

Entered at the postoffice at Glenville as second class mail.
Subscription: 50 cents a year; 30 cents a semester.

BUSINESS PEOPLE AGAIN HELP WITH SCHOOL ACTIVITIES

The Glenville business-men, in general, should be complimented on their fine spirit of cooperation toward the School. This cooperation is shown during the year when many of these men and women back the school paper by advertisements. We could not get far without them.

At tournament times especially, one can see many of these same people donating individual prizes and advertising in the tournament programs. Would these programs be possible if it weren't for these backers? No, they would not.

Our thanks to the business people who make so many of our school activities possible.—Margy Jack.

THESE ARE TRYING TIMES BUT WE SHOULD NOT BE SLACKERS

This is a changing world. Boys and girls, men and women, young and old must adjust themselves if they are to struggle through. This is a time when we should make the most of our experiences; a time we should learn to know what to do if another such time arises.

We have for the most part been slackers this year as far as school is concerned. It seems to be natural when so many other things enter into school life that we let one phase of it drop to a lower level. Of course this is not the best policy for now our lives and livings depend upon what we profit from our school as well as outside experiences.

It is a much harder job to keep up with the things that are before us. The only thing to do is to work harder and spend more time profitably. We are indeed in a time of strife. It is our duty as American citizens to be good citizens and to learn as much as we can of value of us. Some day the running of our government will be up to some of us.—Ted Fultineer.

THEY SHOULD BE USED MORE

"Did you ever notice the two big dictionaries down in the library and think gee! I wish I knew all they contain?"

You can find everything in them: words and their meanings, synonyms and antonyms, places, cities, countries, abbreviations, parts of verbs, and other thousands of things.

If a person knew even half the material which these books contain he would likely be one of our great educators. But we are just the common careless students who hardly have enough time to look in our text books.

Some people who want to progress and make a path to follow in life have formed the habit of spending a few minutes each day looking up a new word in the dictionary, learning the meaning, pronunciations, and additional information.

These dictionaries in the library and the ones in our homes are for our use. Why don't you and I learn to make use of them and cultivate time to learn a new word each day.—Anne Withers.

IT'LL BE A TOUGH YEAR

No one knows what this year holds in store but whatever happens will go down in history, which students will be studying a hundred years from now.

This year could see a defeat for the Axis or the Allies either one, or it might be another year of fierce fighting, for it is hard to tell when this war will be ended. Great naval, air and land battles will be fought. Great men and heroes will come out of these battles, they will be studied in history just as the men whom we are now studying who fought in the American Revolution, the Civil War, and World War No. 1.

The mechanized forces will be compared with the forces of the other wars. The armies and leadership will be compared.

More and more hardships and worries will come on the people within the next few months. Citizens will be sacrificing many things so that our boys at the fronts will be taken care of.—Earl Ray Ellis.

THRICE ☆ ☆ ☆ TOLD ☆ ☆ ☆ TALES

Well, here we go again
The way we gossip is an awful sin.

"Doc" Brown escorted Kathryn W. up to her grandfather's after the Tournament . . . Don Barker was glad that Patty M. visited in Glenville over the week-end . . . Don S. received a letter from Grantsville . . . Verna Dean gets a letter from Normantown . . . Have "Chuck" Adams and Dick F. been visiting Lorena Rhoades and Gene Davis???

Harvey H. attracts the attention of many freshman girls, so we hear . . . Clyde B. has his eye on Blondena F. . . . Juanita G. still thinks of Burnsville . . . Eula Marie enjoyed watching Tanner play, especially Valjean Ellyson.

A Jap secret agent had been instructed to investigate the conditions in the United States and report on national morale. After a few days he sent his report to Tokyo.

He said, "Conditions very bad. People all very hungry. When two of them meet on the street one of them always says to the other, 'What's cookin'?"

Ruth Wolfe wanted to find a new job
So off to Cleveland she did go.
And little Lowell began to sob
Because he said he missed her so.

Jack Hardman helps Marjorie W. in typing . . . Betty Rose H. seems interested in a certain little Normantown boy . . . Morris C. still likes to entertain the girls in library.

War takes money! Buy War
Bonds and Stamps now!

THANKS!

The Journalism Class wishes to thank these persons who helped them with the sale of programs, pop, and popcorn at the Tournament. Because the class is small, other students were asked to help. Carl Young, Bob Murphy, Don Porter, Jack Bailey, and Dick Fultineer— We know how hard you worked and we thank you.

Our thanks go to the business people in the county also, who bought advertising space in the programs. We appreciate their helping us and we urge the students to remember them when shopping.

THIS IS A WAR

(Tune: Irving Berlin's "This Is the Army")

This is a wa-ar, Mr. Jones,
No more meat, only bones.
You visited daily the butcher's
store
But you won't visit him anymore.

This is a wa-ar, Mr. Green,
Can you run a riveting machine?
You say you've never worked before—
Well, you won't waste your time anymore.

Do what the laws command
For we're fighting a war for our land.

This is a wa-ar, Mr. Brown,
No more driving to town.
You used your car to go to the store,
But you won't use your car
anymore.

—James Harper.

THREE ALUMNI MARRIED RECENTLY

Recently three of the alumni of Glenville High School were married.

Annetta Minney, '42, and Bruce Summers, '42, were married March 6 at the Baptist parsonage by the Rev. Gilbert B. Moore. Bruce is employed by the Glenville Auto Craft and is awaiting his call to the Army. Annetta is working at the Kanawha Union Bank. Both were honor students while in high school and took part in school activities.

Eva Hess, '41, was married March 8, at Newton Falls, Ohio where she and her husband, Rudy Zemlock, are employed.

SATELLITE RECEIVES SUPERIOR RATING

The Satellite received a "Superior High School Publication" rating in the twenty-first annual State-wide Competition of Newspapers and News-Periodicals published by students of West Virginia's High Schools.

The paper was studied by Journalism specialists at the State University from twelve different angles. It received 1057 out of a possible 1200 points.

The paper had been rated a "Distinguished High School Publication" in 1941.

Frances—Were the theaters you played in very small?

Bob—Small? Listen, Frances, they were so small the people didn't throw tomatoes at me; they just reached up and squirted the juice in my face.

GLENVILLE TAKES CONFERENCE CROWN

Terrors Have Thirteen Wins, And One Defeat, to Win Title For Third Consecutive Year.

The Glenville Red Terrors have again won the Central West Virginia Conference Basketball championship, for the third straight year, with 13 victories and only one defeat. The Terrors defeated each of the Gilmer County teams twice, won two from Sutton and Burnsville, and one from Gassaway. They also suffered their only conference defeat at the hands of Gassaway.

SPORTS NEWS AND VIEWS

By JACK RADER

The Red Terrors took the Little Kanawha Valley Sectional Tournament by storm when they defeated Normantown in the final game 61-40 before one of the largest crowds ever to see a tournament game here. Bob Whiting climaxed a brilliant home season by dropping in 25 points, 21 of which were made in the first half. Normantown, one of the Terrors' oldest and bitterest rivals, put up a stiff fight but couldn't cope with the Terrors' attack.

Among the peculiar incidents and outstanding happenings in the tournament are the following: In the Spencer-Normantown game, Duskey, Norman-town forward, dropped in 10 out of 11 fouls. Adams, Spencer guard, was slightly embarrassed in the Sand Fork game when, off balance, he stumbled and fell into the lap of a girl spectator.

A small group of fans kept up continually the chant, "The best team of all goes to Carmichael Hall." Junior Wilson, 6 foot 5 inch center, of Sand Fork, received the prize for the tallest player. Bob Whiting of Glenville scored 21 points in one half of the game with Norman-town.

Among the people who attended the Tournament were Earle Wolfe, former high school and college athlete; Robert "Red" Davies, a former college basketball star; and Allan Boggs, a former student in Glenville College. All are now in the armed forces.

Clayborne "Red" Wilfong, former coach of the Glenville Red Terrors, who is now coach at Weston, attended the Tournament and probably felt very much at home because during his 17 years of coaching at Glenville his team participated in all of the Little Kanawha Valley Tournaments.

Bob—Now wait a minute. It takes a big man to say that to me.

Jim—Well, I'm a big man.

Bob — Okay, just call me Shorty.

QUALIFYING TEST FOR V-12 PROGRAM GIVEN APRIL 2

High School Seniors 17 to 20 Years of Age May Take Test To Choose Naval Officer Candidates.

A qualifying test for the Navy College Training Program, known as the V-12 program, will be given at the College Friday morning, April 2.

The purpose of the V-12 program is to produce Naval officers. Persons who appear to have potentialities for ultimate selection as officers will be chosen for college training. This training will be carried on while the men are on active duty, in uniform, receiving pay, and under general military discipline.

The following groups are eligible to take this test:

1. High school or preparatory school seniors who will have attained their seventeenth but not their twentieth birthday by July 1, 1943.

2. High school and preparatory school seniors who will be graduated by July 1, 1943, provided they will have attained their seventeenth but not their twentieth birthdays by that date.

3. Students who will have attained their seventeenth but not their twentieth birthdays by July 1, 1943, who do not hold certificates of graduation from a secondary school but who are now continuing their education in an accredited college or university.

To be eligible for selection, one must furthermore, be a male citizen of the United States; be morally and physically qualified for the program including a minimum uncorrected visual ability of 18/20 for each eye; be unmarried and agree to remain unmarried until commissioned unless sooner released by the Navy Department; and evidence potential officer qualifications, including appearance and scholarship records.

Men now enlisted in any branch of the armed services, including V-1, V-5, V-7 reserves on inactive status, are not eligible to take this test.

"TARGET FOR TONIGHT"

"Target For Tonight," a five-reel authentic RAF picture and "Ride 'Em Cowboy," a one-reel comedy, were shown in assembly the past Thursday.

Red—I've got a good mind to sock you.

Toughy—Well, why don't you?

Red—I've got a mind and I want to keep it.

MRS. HALL PRESENTED SET OF GLASSWARE

Mrs. "Joe" Hall, wife of the coach of the winning tournament team, was presented a set of cut glassware, including eight goblets and eight sherbets, by the Ludwik Glass Company of Glenville.

The glass was made at the local plant and sent to Borchert's cut-glass factory at Weston to be decorated. This prize was not listed in the programs, since it was offered after the programs were sent to the printers. Also not listed in the program was a hairbrush given to the head cheerleader of the runners-up team, Normantown, by the Smart Shoppe.

SENIORS MAKING PLANS

The senior class is making plans for commencement which will soon be not far off.

A committee, consisting of Jewell Lavelle Rhoades, Lucy Alice Dobbins, and Ted Fultineer, has been appointed to work with Mrs. Murphy and Miss McGee in choosing a senior play, to be given sometime during commencement week.

A representative from the Ideal Studio of Clarksburg will be here April 2 to take pictures of the seniors.

PRIZES GIVEN TO FIVE TEAMS AND 21 INDIVIDUALS

Sixteen individual players, five teams, two cheerleaders, two coaches, and one coach's wife received prizes, donated by county business people, at the Annual Little Kanawha Valley Sectional Basketball Tournament which was held at Glenville March 12-13.

Osborne Shirley Campbell, who was recently stationed in Connecticut, is now serving with the Air Corps in England.

The first season tickets for the Little Kanawha Valley Sectional Tournament were bought by Marianne Rhoades and Emma F. Fitzpatrick, student and adult respectively.

Glenville Wins Sectional

Vikings come from behind in the last half to down a fighting Tanner team 47-31. Normantown trailed throughout all of the first half, but got going in the third quarter and went on to win. E. Duskey and Gainer, stellar forwards of the Vikings, had 17 and 16 points respectively. In the second game of the evening Spencer's Yellow Jackets pulled a surprise when they upset Sand Fork 36-27. Spencer led all the way, paced by Haugh and Adams with 11 points each. Elliott scored 16 for Sand Fork.

On Saturday afternoon, Glenville encountered Walton, the tallest team in the tournament, but by some fast maneuvering and some nifty shooting by Fultineer, who rang up 21 points, and by Whiting, who scored 18, won rather impressively over the visitors 63-30. The same afternoon Normantown fought their way to the finals by dropping Spencer 43-33. The Roane countians trailed throughout the game but closed with a rush and were trailing by only 10 points at the end. In this game, Duskey of Normantown, scored 5 field goals and 10 out of 11 fouls for 20 points, while his team-mate, Gainer, got 16. Line-ups:
