NEW COURSES HAVE BEEN SCHEDULED FOR COMING YEAR

Program Will Meet Needs of Students; No Advance Enrollment, Says Principal Boggs

Principal Earl R. Boggs thinks that Glenville High School will offer, next year, one of the best schedules it has ever offered. Some new courses will be offered to meet the needs and interests of students in time of war.

Physics will be offered to seniors; a music class will be made up of juniors and seniors; advanced algebra has been scheduled for juniors and seniors (the second semester to include trigonometry); sophomores and juniors may enroll for speech; and Latin American history will be offered to seniors. These courses are to be offered in addition to the courses regularly offered.

The physical education program will receive more emphasis than ever before. Classes are scheduled to begin at 2:00 and continue through the 3:00 period so that the teachers may use their time and the gymnasium more effectively.

Mr. Boggs said there will be no advanced enrollment this year because of a possibility of changes being asked for during the summer by the State Department of Education.

JOHNNY WAGNER AND MIRIAM M'QUAIN TO SPEAK AT EXERCISES

Johnny Wagner, with a four-year class average of 94.5 and 19½ units to his credit, and Miriam McQuain, with a four-year class average of 94.4 and 18¼ units to her credit, will be the valedictorian and salutatorian respectively, of this year's senior class. These honors go each year to the senior having the highest four-year scholastic average.

Both students will make talks at the commencement exercises which are to be held May 24. Both Johnnie and Miriam entered college, through the new government ruling, at the beginning of the second semester.

Johnny is a son of Mr. and Mrs. John R. Wagner of Brooklyn Addition. He was very active in school affairs; is president of the senior class, was managing editor of the Satellite, and is in the senior play. He is also active in 4-H work and in church work.

Miriam, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. B. McQuain of Camden Flats, was also active in school affairs. She was news editor of the Satellite, and is active in 4-H and church work.

Both students are members of Quill and Scroll.

TWENTY-EIGHT SENIORS WILL RECEIVE DIPLOMAS; KNAPP TO DELIVER ADDRESS

The Rev. J. Perry Cox of Weston Will Deliver Annual Sermon, May 23; Marvin Cooper To Present Diplomas May 24

LOCAL SCOUT TROOP PLANS ACTIVITIES

Scout Troop No. 38 has several activities planned for the summer.

The first is a covered dish supper, May 31, at which time the Troop Charter will be presented. Presentation of awards will also be made at this time.

On July 18, 19, 20 there will be a county-wide camp at the County Recreation Center which all troops in the county will attend. This will be held under the direction of Mr. Ivan H. Moore, district scout executive.

It is hoped that it will be possible for the county troops to have a county camp the week of August 19-26. Scout leaders are now on the lookout for a suitable location.

Attendance at the several camps to be held throughout the state is left up to the Scouts. The camp nearest to Glenville is Camp Kotoga, located near Parkersburg.

All activities of the local troop will be directed by the local scoutmaster, Mr. W. E. Hull.

MRS. POOLE INSTALLED AS PRESIDENT OF P. T. A.

Mrs. Hope Poole was installed as president of the P. T. A. at their meeting on May 6 with Mrs. A. H. Moore in charge of installation ceremonies. Other new officers are Vice president—Mrs. Garland Brannon; secretary—Miss Marjorie Bush, and treasurer—Miss Georgia Pearl Stalaker.

A one-act play, "Everybody's Doing It" was given at the meeting.

The attendance banner went to the third grade.

SENIORS TO PRESENT "MOUNTAIN MUMPS" IN COLLEGE AUDITORIUM TONIGHT AT 8:00

The senior class will present their annual class play, "Mountain Mumps," tonight to an appreciative audience.

Anne Withers will play the part of Peg Southern (Patsy), Elsie Burke was Mrs. Chilton, and her three children were Betty Gainer as Florence, Margy Jack as Sue, and Jack Bailey as Calvin. Link Forester, a young inventor, was played by Carl Young; Ted Fultineer was Keery Regan while his father, Timothy Regan, was played by Karl West. Jewell Lavelle Rhoades was Mrs. Shotts and her daughter, Lida, was played by Nell Reed. Johnnie Wagner played the part of Dr. Miller, and Jack Porter, Homer Riggs.

Miss Helen McGee, high school librarian, directed the play.

FOUR EIGHTH GRADE BOYS TO TAKE W. VA. CLUB TEST

Scott Withers, Junior King, Charles Adams, and Billy Rymer, eighth grade, who made the highest grades in the West Virginia tests here the past week, will take the Golden Horseshoe test, to be given at the County Superintendent's office May 22.

Kitty Brannon and George Schimmel were the two highest in the seventh grade. These two cannot qualify for the county test but will receive pins.

VISITS SISTER

Mrs. Ross Hardman has been visiting her sister, Second Lt. Eva Wiant, who is stationed at Fort Sam Houston, Texas. Mrs. Hardman is the mother of Jack Hardman, junior.

Twenty-eight seniors will receive diplomas at commencement exercises to be held at the college auditorium May 24 when the commencement address will be given by Mr. U. A. Knapp, assistant director of West Virginia OCD. Johnny Wagner will present the class valedictory and Miriam McQuain the salutatorian address.

The Rev. J. Perry Cox of St. Paul's Episcopal Church of Weston will deliver the annual sermon on May 23, at 2:30. Commencement music will be furnished by the Choral Club under the direction of Miss Mary

WE HAVE APPRECIATED YOUR HELP

To the supporters of the Satellite: the staff wishes to express its sincere appreciation for the fine support you have given us throughout the year. We understand the hard time you have had this year. Even so, you have not failed us in helping to put, in most of the homes represented here, school news that should be known by them, and to publish a school paper.

Its success has been due largely to your support. We appreciate it. We also wish the staff of the coming year a successful and happy experience in publishing the Satellite.

WITH MINGLED FEELINGS OF REGRET AND JOY THE SENIORS LEAVE G. H. S.

To many seniors May 24 will live as a "never-to-be-forgotten" day. This day of graduation, like a bridge, spans the gulf between the careless, free-running high school days and the entrance into life. This entrance, into the warring world of today, will be different. It has been shown that one can no longer drift along; he must work for what he gains.

As we seniors leave high school, this realization slowly dawns on us: The realization of leaving, of not being quite certain—Youth will play, and is playing, an important part in this war. This one field lies clearly before us.

The feelings at leaving are varied. One is anxious to get out of high school until the time really comes to leave, then the desire to go leaves. Yet we must go, "And departing, leave behind us" many good friends and pleasant times.

—Margy Jack

THINGS WERE NOT ALWAYS SO BAD AS THEY THEN SEEMED

Memories, memories; thoughts of high-school days—To the students graduating, high school will soon be a memory—but a memory that will live with most forever. Everything didn't always go along smoothly. In fact, most of the time, I seemed to be stepping out of "hot water" only to fall back in. It's hard to realize that four years could speed so quickly.

All the events crowded into these years would fill more than a volume. Remember that time we skipped? Do I! And I remember only too well the times we were caught. And think of the fun we had at tournaments! Now that we're leaving—maybe those teachers weren't quite so bad as we thought. They were pretty bad but—we surely had fun at those parties!

Why, it seems as if only yesterday I was wandering around in the halls, trying to figure out just where one "green" freshman should be and just what this little freshman should be doing. Then, almost before I knew it, I had passed through the developing process: a "green" freshman, a "cocky" sophomore, a "carefree" junior, and a "dignified" senior. Don't ask what I've developed into—They haven't told me yet!

ORCHIDS TO YOU

Here's a hand to those students who will not have to take final examinations because they have attended school regularly and worked hard throughout the year. These students have shown themselves to be dependable and good workmen. The editors hope you will enjoy "examination days."

v

Mr. Shrock:

The seniors of Glenville High School wish to express their appreciation for your gift of "School Days" booklets.

Senior Class

Two soldiers had just peeled 200 bushels of potatoes and had worked all day at it, when the sergeant came in and asked them why they had peeled so many. One of them said "Well, sarge, every time we started to quit, someone would shout, "Hey, K. P." We thought that meant "keep peeling."

THRICE ☆ ☆ ☆ TOLD ☆ ☆ TALES ☆

Come here, classmates, and listen to me

I'll tell you our class' prophecy. Many years from now when you're old and gray you can read this prophecy and remember this day And the fun you had with your class and me For we are the class of '43.

We visit a college chemistry lab.; oh me!

There Johnny Wagner, the teacher, we see, He was the president of our senior class.

And there's Bob Whiting, a college coach, at last— But it's no great surprise to you or to me For they're from our class of '43.

In a little town not far away Is Rondall Gainer still happy and gay.

Now he's a farmer and his smile is wide For there is Margy Jack at his side.

They have a home in the country free And they're from our class of '43.

There's Jack Rader and Tony, and by the way They were called to the Army the 15th of May.

The rest of us graduated the following week But they got their diplomas and are now at their peak For Jack's a sports writer and a coach is Tony G., Bringing fame to our class of '43.

Now we see a ladies' shop; oh gee! Betty Gainer is the owner, we see.

Right next door is a theater; The ticket seller is Mary Lila Luzader.

Jack Bailey, the usher, is grinning with glee For he remembers our class of '43.

There's Jewell and Elsie, the Cedarsville gals Still feeding chickens and milking cows.

And there's Walter Roe, with his dimples deep Driving a truck over hills so steep.

We're glad to see them so happy and free For they're from our class of '43.

We see a classroom with students there

Mary Sue's the teacher with the long brown hair. Nell Reed is teaching in the next room And there's the janitor, Arnold Hall, with a broom. They're earning a living, we're glad to see For they're from our class of '43.

Junior Wolfe and Kenneth Fisher are farmers now. Anne Withers wears a nurse's cap on her brow.

Karl West and Jack Porter are engineers Earning a living without any fears While Miriam McQuain teaches Biology As was taught to the class of '43.

Lucy, Della, Lucille, Wilma are house wives; That's been their desire all their lives.

Earl Ray continues to be a soda jerker, And Carl Young is a factory worker.

There's Ted Fultineer—a coach is he. And that's all of our class of '43.

There's one more person we must name. (By sponsoring our class, she won her fame.)

She was Mrs. Murphy, we remember her well. She married a man by the name of Cordell.

Now she's keeping house; from teaching she's free. She was our Senior Class sponsor of '43.

SUMMER SCHOOL TO COMMENCE JUNE 9

Students In Grades 7 to 12 May Earn One Half Unit During The Six-Weeks Period

The Summer Training School, open to students in grades 1 to 12 inclusive, will begin June 9, announces Earl R. Boggs, principal.

Students of junior high standing may earn one half unit in English, to be taught by Miss Helen McGee, while high school students may earn one half unit in social science, to be taught by Stanley Hall.

Teachers for the lower grades include: Miss Marjorie Bush, Miss Drusilla Kidd, and Miss Lucy Wolfe. Emmett Hull will teach manual training for all grades.

School hours will be from 9:15 to 12. None of the school buses will run.

TOWN TEAM TRIMS TERROR NINE, 19-7

Because of rain, a great many of the softball games which had been scheduled had to be canceled; however, some have been played, in spite of the weather.

The Glenville team was handed a 19-7 licking by the Crude Oilers on May 10. The winner's big inning was the eighth, when they crossed the plate 8 times. Jack Luzader, on the mound for the Crude Oilers, was touched for 10 hits, but, except for the first inning, when the Red Terrors tallied 3 runs, he escaped trouble. The Rev Gilbert Moore was again the batting star of the game, getting 3 hits, one a home run, and scoring 3 runs, while Richard Whiting also got 3 hits, including a homer.

Bob Whiting, who pitched the first 6 innings for the Terrors, was hit often and hard. "Monk" Wolfe finished the game, and was the victim of the 8-run splurge of the Crude Oilers in the eighth.

SPORTS NEWS AND VIEWS

By JACK RADER

Since this is my final column, I thought it would be very appropriate to go over the highlights of a year of sports at Glenville High School.

The Glenville Red Terror football team, coached for the first time by Stanley "Joe" Hall, who had replaced C. D. Wilfong, veteran mentor for several years, won 5 games and lost 3. After losing their first two games, both by 6-0, to Weston and Grantsville, the Terrors, using the T-formation, lost only one game the rest of the season that to Richwood by 13-12. They defeated, Webster Springs, Gasaway, Walton and Burnsville. Ted Fultineer and Dick Yeager were chosen on the All-Conference first team, while Junior Wolfe, Bob Whiting, and Tony George won berths on the second team.

The 1942-43 basketball season was one of the most successful in the school's history. Besides winning 19 games and losing only 2, and numbering among its victims Weston (twice), the Red Terrors also won the Conference championship (for the third straight season); took the Sectional Tournament here by whipping Troy, Walton and Normantown; captured the Regional Tournament by licking R-W and W-I; and then scared mighty Wheeling in the first game of the State Tournament, only to lose 44-41. Ted Fultineer made the All-Tournament team in the State Tournament.

Bob Whiting was the outstanding player on a great Red Terror team with his consistent high-scoring. On the front end of the fast-break, the tall lanky star dropped in basket after basket. Ted Fultineer at the center position was the man who did much of the passing, to either Whiting or the other forward, Ronnie Gainer, while the guards, Yeager and Wolfe did yeoman service in the back court.

Whiting, Fultineer, and Wolfe were chosen on the All-Sectional team and the first two repeated on the All-Regional team at Clarksburg, while Ted Fultineer was named on the second All-State team.

The star of this year's track team is again Bob Whiting, who runs the mile and also high-jumps. This year he won both these events in the meet at Clarksburg and Saturday he participated in the state meet at Charleston in these events.

QUILL AND SCROLL PINS AWARDED THURSDAY

Quill and Scroll pins were awarded, in assembly Thursday, to Miriam McQuain, Betty Gainer, Karl West and Johnny Wagner.

Journalism students earn membership in the Quill and Scroll, an international organization, by: attaining a high scholastic record in all work, submitting to the organization a piece of their writing and being recommended by the teacher.

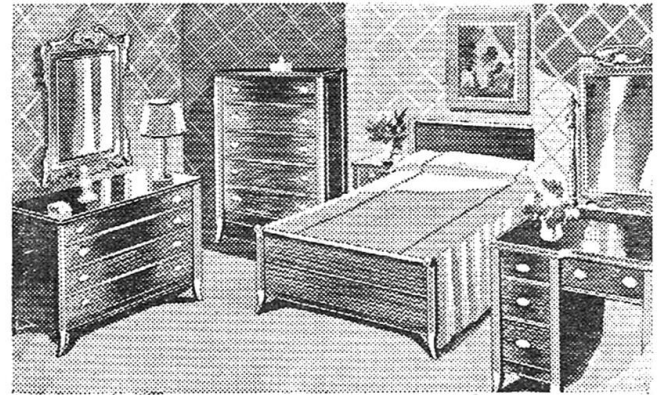

Johnny was managing editor of the Satellite the first semester; Miriam was news editor; Karl, business manager; and Betty, feature editor.

RAIN HALTS GLENVILLE "TROUBADOURS" GAME

The Glenville Red Terrors — "Troubadours" softball game on May 6 was postponed because of a rainstorm after 1½ innings of play with the "Troubadours" leading 3-0. The Rev. Gilbert Moore smashed a home run with 2 on in the last of the 1st inning to account for the 3 runs. The Terrors had just gone down in one-two-three order in the first of the second inning when the rain came. Harry Pritt for the "Troubadours" and Junior Wolfe for the Red Terrors were the opposing pitchers.

Also, the game with Tanner, originally scheduled for May 7, was postponed. It was played later.

STUDENTS WHO MEET REQUIREMENTS ARE EXEMPT FROM FINALS

In accordance with a rule of long standing here, students may be exempt from taking final examination provided they have met certain requirements.

Any student may be exempted from final examinations if he has an average for the year of 90. If a student has been absent no more than three times nor tardy more than five times during the year, an average of 85 will exempt him, while if a student has no absence or tardy marks against him for the entire year, he may be exempted with 80.

All members of the senior play cast may be exempted with an average of 70; seniors who serve on play committees may be exempted with an average of 75; and any senior may be exempted with an average of 80.

SENIORS, FACULTY ARE GUESTS OF JR. CLASS

The seniors and faculty were guests of the junior class at a delightful party at the college gymnasium May 7 from 8:00 to 10:00 P. M.

After an hour of games, dancing, and contests, all went to the Methodist Church where refreshments, consisting of chicken salad, rolls and coca cola, were served, and a few informal talks were made. Billy Luzader acted as toastmaster.

Both the gymnasium and the church were beautifully decorated in red, white and blue.

Because of difficulty in securing rationed foods, this party replaced the regular junior-senior banquet which has been an annual event for several years.

RED TERRORS SWAMP SAND FORK TEAM

The Glenville Red Terrors won their first game in the county softball league by swamping Sand Fork 25-6 here on May 5. The Terror's big bats brought 8 tallies across in the first inning and chased Hamric, S-F's starting pitcher, from the mound. Ted Fultineer homered in the big inning. They also tallied 8 more times in the 2nd frame and added 6 in the fifth, and single runs in the 3rd and 6th. Carl Young and Ted Fultineer led the batting attack with four-for-five, and scored 3 and 2 runs, respectively.

Perhaps the batters were a little over anxious, but, anyhow, 2 bats were broken in the game.

John Elliott, Sand Fork's ace pitcher, was ill and his loss was a great blow to the chances of the Lions.

BIOGRAPHIES OF MODERN WRITERS NOW IN LIBRARY

Biographies of more than 1850 writers who have, in a literary sense, flourished since 1900, are now available to high school students in Twentieth Century Authors, the 1577-page biographical dictionary of modern world literature just received at the Glenville High School library, Miss Helen McGee, librarian has announced.

Twentieth Century Authors takes the place of two earlier, much-used volumes, Living Authors and Authors Today and Yesterday, both of which are in the library here. The new book does not merely revise the sketches of writers who appeared in the earlier volumes—every sketch has been completely rewritten, and there are 1050 more biographies in Twentieth Century Authors than in Living Authors and Authors Today and Yesterday combined.
