dents will not get hungry during class.

5. A specific time will be set aside for the girls to beautify their appearance.

6. The cafeteria will be enlarged to five times its present size.

7. There will be daily entertainment during the last period.

Marty Hoefler, who gathered the information while students here in Glenville high school.

"We spent three years trying to score field goals in the girls' class tournament, and we think this valuable experience should be passed on to our readers," say the authors.

TEACHERS OUSTED

ing money, but that she "sure knew how to spend it."

Darlene Cottrill, red-head from Alaska, will fill in for Mrs. Muriel Currey, GHS math teacher, who was recently appointed Speaker of the House. Mrs. Currey is the first known red-head to hold the position.

An ardent lover of lyrical poetry and an authority on the romantic period in literature, Jimmy Wiant has taken over the duties of Mrs. Linn Hickman, English teacher. Mrs. Hickman is doing research on fox chasing in the Alps. She will begin her doctorate work on this subject immediately, she says.

Mrs. Rosalea Miller, head of the Business Department at Glenville, has enrolled in the Charleston School of Commerce to learn how to go about business charmingly. She is being replaced by Miss Dorothy Matics, former student teacher, who is one of the nation's authorities on the subject 'How to peroxide hair with typewriter cleaner'.

Lewis Wolfe, nephew of 'Have Gun Will Travel' Wolfe, is replacing his uncle as coach of Glenville high school. Meanwhile, 'Woody', has taken over Richard Boone's job as professional gunman in San Francisco where word has been received that the former coach states that he only wished he could have used a gun while teaching at GHS in order to blast some knowledge in some of his students' heads.

Miss Goldine Woodford, senior class sponsor, is being replaced by Jack Floyd. She will become the fifty-first wife of King Saud of Arabia. Miss Woodford says she doesn't feel bad about being kicked out because she knew she was getting married to King Saud anyway.

Jake Wolfe, son of 'Have Gun Will Travel' Wolfe, is occupying the position of home economics teacher, Mrs. Arnetta Summers, who has taken Christian Dior's place in Paris, France. Jake is very much in favor of the 'chemise' look.

Mrs. Ella Jones, who is working on a top secret assignment at Cape Canaveral, Florida, is being replaced by Dr. Jonas Salk. Dr. Salk is not sure he can teach the students as much as Mrs. Jones, but "I will try," he says.
